McLAUGHLIN'S
XXXX COFFEE.

GREETING.

We all rejoice at the great prosperity for our country; at the same time everybody admires economy, and desires the best things for the least money.

One of the most difficult things to supply and give satisfaction to a family is coffee. One purchase will please; another from the same barrel or bag will cause the greatest dissatisfaction. The reason is it is not uniform. No one is responsible for bulk roasted coffee. They all look alike, but no one can vouch for the drinking qualities, and coffee is to please the stomach, not the eye.

One pound of McLaughlin's XXXX Coffee will make thirty cups of choice coffee, or about one cent per cup. To an ordinary sized family, the advance will not cost to exceed five cents per day. How little do we think of spending ten times this amount on ribbons, candy, whisky or tobacco, and not say anything about it.

In recommending you to use McLaughlin's XXXX Coffee, in 1 pound packages, we do so knowing it must please you and give entire satisfaction, as every care is given it in blending the different coffees that compose it.

It is the strongest fine flavored coffee in market.

It is put up under our firm name, and depends upon itself to make friends with every family—(and it never fails), always uniform and reliable; try it.

Sold only in One Pound Packages.

4 cups of coffee, $\frac{1}{2}$ egg to settle, costs $3\frac{1}{4}$ cts. a pound.
6 " " $\frac{1}{2}$ " " " $2\frac{1}{2}$ " "

This is figured at 12 cents a dozen for eggs and 30 cups coffee to a pound.

The glazing on McLaughlins XXXX Coffee does the settling and is made of Cornstarch and reclarified Sugar, therefore perfectly healthful.

Coffee is a vegetable fibre containing oil known as caffeine. This oil makes the taste and smell of coffee and evaporates quickly after the coffee is roasted. When the oil has evaporated nothing remains but a woody substance. The glazing on XXXX seals the pores of the coffee and prevents the oil from evaporating. If you wish to buy coffee, buy XXXX which is glazed. If you want to buy wood, ask for an unglazed coffee that has lost most of the oil.

CHINESE WAR JUNK.

A Chinese War Junk, as shown on this card, will very soon be a thing of the past, as the Celestials have discovered its clumsiness and slowness, compared with vessels of Western nations. The junk is often of large dimensions, and, notwithstanding its slowness, has repeatedly proved itself a very seaworthy craft on voyages extending even to America and Europe. It is usually ornamented with a very elaborate and fantastic bow, which, with its gaudy and peculiar coloring, both in hull and sails, makes it a very picturesque object in Chinese ports.

This card is one of a series of 15, showing the peculiar war ships of the world. Any one sending us the fronts of fifteen wrappers of the XXXX Coffee, and a TWO-CENT STAMP to pay postage, will be mailed a beautifully colored picture of the "Battle of the Monitor and Merrimac." This picture is 16 inches high and 20 inches long, without any printing on it, and will be an ornament in any parlor. Wrappers must be sent before February 1st, 1890.

TWO IMPORTANT QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

1st. Why is McLaughlin's
XXXX COFFEE Glazed?

2d. What is Glazing composed of?

Coffee being a vegetable, consequently porous, the glazing seals the pores and keeps the Coffee for months as fresh as the day it comes from the roaster.

THIS IS WHY IT IS GLAZED.

The glazing is made from Corn Starch and Reclarified Sugar, nothing can be more nutritious and healthful.

We account for the immense increase in our business to having our own houses in Rio de Janeiro and Santos, saving the intermediate or second-hand profit, and putting all this saving in the quality of our Coffee.

ARMORED MAIN TOP OF A MODERN MAN OF WAR.

COPYRIGHTED 1889.

Willie
Armored Main Top of a Modern Man-of-War.

This is a spirited picture in the main top of a modern man-of-war, showing the means of offense and defense on this class of vessels. The marines on the main top are picking off their opponents on the enemy's vessel. The machine gun shown in the picture is used with deadly effect on the deck of the opposing vessel, particularly on the vessels whose guns are not protected by armor. The destruction of life is probably greater from the machine guns than the results from the heaviest gun built in modern times.

This card is one of a series of 18, showing the peculiar war ships of the world. Any one sending us the fronts of 15 wrappers of the XXXX Coffee, and a TWO-CENT STAMP to pay postage, will be mailed a beautifully colored picture of the "Battle of the Monitor and Merrimac." The older the coffee the less oil remains. If much of the oil has evaporated, you get what is called stale coffee, which is not what you want at any price. The glazing on XXXX seals the pores of the coffee, and prevents the oil from evaporating. Use XXXX, and you will always have fresh coffee.
